

Support Their Voices

All support generously given to the Voices for Change movement directly supports the work of the artists in Zimbabwe. The movement needs to commission more artists to speak their voice and complete their artwork. For the movement to be strongest, no artist should sit idle for lack of funds to support their effort. Each voice needs to be tapped. Voices for Change has arranged for safe upload facilities in secure locations, thus the movement also needs resources to be able to transport these files and share the artwork online with the world. In this day of media oppression in Zimbabwe, it is critical to support this link to the outside world for protest art. This online vault of protest artwork will serve as eyewitness testimony to the abuses of the Zimbabwean people by its own government for years to come. The protest art movement in Zimbabwe needs your help to amplify the artists' voices today. We are launching a campaign to recruit Amplifiers. Amplifiers commit to a donation of $10 each month for one year. Amplifiers are critical building blocks in the movement for change in Zimbabwe. Only when we have successfully recruited 100 Amplifiers can we reach full scale and catalyze the kind of movement we want to see in Zimbabwe. If it is within your means, and Zimbabwe and protest art is important to you, please consider becoming an Amplifier today.
